

SHILOH RIDGE

PORCELAIN TILE

The practice of fuming wood goes back centuries, but is most commonly associated with the work of legendary Arts and Crafts furniture maker Gustav Stickley. Fuming dardens the wood's natural tannins, accentuating the inherent grain and other character marks. Shiloh Ridge captures the rich, upscale look of this time-honored process in a dramatic porcelain tile collection.

Mohawk's Reveal Imaging replicates beautiful fumed wood with incredible detail and stunning authenticity, further enhanced with a smooth satin finish. Five high variation colors come in 8" x 40" pressed planks with 28 unique faces for floors that transform bland rooms into striking interiors.
