MultiSensory

In the Digital Age, tactility has taken on a more urgent role in human experience. Our sense of touch has expanded from its original function as tool of survival to one of connection, perception, and emotion. Our reliance on screens and keyboards has caused a shift where materials and textures are needed to provide sensory stimulation and comfort.

The MultiSensory collection explores varying degrees of texture that make us reconnect with the touch and feel of nature, inviting relaxation, emotional warmth, comfort, and wellness. The collection has an authentically biophilic appearance and feel, combining the natural visual of wool with the high-performance benefits of Mohawk Group's Heathered Hues solution-dyed Duracolor® Tricor fiber. With its plush textures and sophisticated 30+ ounce tufted weights, the MultiSensory collection offers a luxurious feeling underfoot that delights and inspires. All modular and broadloom styles are offered in 14 colorways, from warm and cool neutrals to deep, saturated tones that set the stage for the rich textures.
